A kind action I can choose

Reflect on a kind action I can take.

Resilience & Change

Our lesson

A kind action shows care for someone or something we share.

We will plan an imagined action.

You may choose, pass or change your mind.
Home choices are optional.

Small kind actions

A Say thank you Thank someone for help.	B Offer a turn Offer a turn with a shared item.
C Offer help Ask first about a small safe task.	D Put an item back Return a shared item I used, if safe.
E Give time to speak Let a person finish speaking.	F Offer a kind drawing Offer a drawing if wanted.

Choose one imagined action. You can change your mind.

Asking first

Ask first.

People may say no.

Choose a small safe action.

No heavy, hot or sharp jobs.

An imagined plan

Who	Someone in my group
What	Offer a turn with a shared item
When	When I finish using it

It may help them have a turn.

A choice check

Which plan lets the other person choose?

A Take over their task without asking.

B Ask if they want help and accept their answer.

My imagined plan

Who
What
When

You may point, speak or use your book.

Thinking about my choice

This may help because ____.

I can change my plan.

I can ask first and accept the answer.

My one line or drawing

I can be kind by ____.

Write one line, or sketch your action in your book.

Point, speak or ask an adult to label your drawing.

Exit

Show one action you chose.

How may it help?

Your plan can change. Home actions are optional.
