Try, review and plan the visit. Follow the adult's agreed task. No eating or food handling is needed to take part.

1 Find your part with an adult. At the GROW station, use the agreed steps. At the panel, look at a safe sample, pack or label.

2 You can choose not to taste. Say or point to one thing you checked. An adult can keep your exact words.

3 Add your real reply to Keep, Change or Not sure. Check the tally with help.

My part was _____.
I checked _____.
My reply: Keep / Change / Not sure / Pass.
I tasted / I did not taste. My reason _____.

Panel tally: Keep ____ + Change ____ + Not sure ____ = ____ replies.
Tasted ____; Not tasted ____. Count only real replies. Keep a pass or no reply out of the total.

The adult checks food before any taste. Never taste a hot or unchecked sample. A pack or label check can be useful. Mark it not tasted.

Finish

Keep one own action or clear comment and a checked tally. Say what could change or what still needs a check. Show it, say it or share quietly. You may pass.

Try, review and plan the visit. Follow the adult's agreed task. No eating or food handling is needed to take part.

1 At the GROW station, follow the accepted practical steps with the adult. At the panel, choose an approved taste or a label/presentation check.

2 Give a clear reason for Keep, Change or Not sure. State whether you tasted, and what your comment is based on.

3 Tally actual replies. Check the total and suggest one change to consider. Keep your own contribution clear.

Try, review and plan the visit. Follow the adult's agreed task. No eating or food handling is needed to take part.

1 Explain your practical check or give feedback on a specific feature. Separate taste evidence from label or presentation evidence.

2 Check the tally and its limits. Who actually replied? What can the replies show, and what remains unknown?

3 Recommend one improvement using the actual feedback. Explain why a preference tally cannot decide whether food is safe.
